Quote and order data

One Step Checkout uses Magento's quote and order records. The module adds a small set of columns and copies only the values collected by an active One Step Checkout quote.

Data	Quote storage	Order storage or output
Order comment	<code>quote.order_comment</code>	<code>sales_order.order_comment</code> , status history and <code>order_comment</code> extension attribute
Preferred delivery date	<code>quote.delivery_date</code>	<code>sales_order.delivery_date</code> , success/Admin display and <code>delivery_date</code> extension attribute
Per-address delivery date (multi-address flow)	<code>quote_address.osc_delivery_date</code>	<code>sales_order.delivery_date</code> (per-address value wins over <code>quote.delivery_date</code> when set)
Newsletter choice	<code>quote.newsletter_subscribe</code>	Processed by the post-order newsletter observer; not shown as an Admin extra box
Gift message	Magento gift-message quote/order relation	Magento gift-message record and Admin Checkout Extras view when a gift-message ID exists
One Step scope marker	<code>quote.onestepcheckout_active</code>	Used by submit observers to apply the module's required-field and extra-copy rules
Cart-recovery state	<code>quote.cart_recovery_sent</code> , claim and retry columns	No order column; recovery state ends when the quote is sent or skipped

The module also adds `sales_order_grid.delivery_date` so the value is available to Sales > Orders. The matching Delivery Date grid column is hidden by default; enable it through the grid's column controls and filter it with the date-range filter.

The order-repository plugin adds the two declared extension attributes when an order is loaded or listed. The module does not copy the newsletter checkbox into a new order column.
